Ford Touring Car Price $590

Prices of Ford spare parts have been reduced an average of ten per cent. A Ford touring car may now be bought, part by part, for but $38.87 more than the price of the car ready to run. Another big slice off the "after cost" of motoring.

Runabout $640; Town Car price on application. All Ford cars are fully equipped, including electric headlights. No cars sold un-equipped. Buyers of Ford cars will share in our profits if we sell 30,000 cars between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915.

From latest returns from all polls in Lacombe Constituency it is learned that only two polls in the entire district gave a "wet" majority—Erskine and Saskatchewan River. The vote in these polls were small, however, and has no effect on the percentage secured. Lacombe heads the list of "dry" constituencies in a very "dry" Province. Manitoba is voting on Prohibition soon, and B.C. will be in line before another two months. Then look out for Dominion-wide Prohibition. You cannot stop it.

GULL LAKE REGATTA

As a meeting held at Gull Lake on Monday evening it was decided to hold the Annual Regatta on Monday, August 9th, and that day will be proclaimed a Civic Holiday by the Mayor and Council of Lacombe. The events will be similar to last year, and will be published in a day or two.

FARM HANDS.

As the heavy crops in the Western Provinces will probably require more men to harvest than during the past two of three years, all farmers in the Lacombe District who will need men will help matters by sending in their names to The Western Globe, together with the number of men they can use until after harvest. In this way we can put men in search of work in touch with those who require help with very little delay.

BASEBALL

(By "Slug Three")

And still the day of the False Prophet is not past, for he it known that many prophecies had been made in the Clive District as to what would be the fate of the Central Alberta Champions when they visited that thriving "burg" to the east of Lacombe some twelve or fourteen miles.

And it came to pass that the Champs did visit said "burg" last night (Tuesday), but the cry of "woe unto you" proved of no avail, and the Champs still remain undefeated.

Quite true; the Champs did meet with many "ups and downs" on the journey outwards, which was made by autos, but this did not deter them from facing the enemy and the false prophets.

Clive was reached, to be precise, at 6.56 p.m., and the game was called a few minutes afterwards by his ump, Harry Williams.

Now, let this fact be clearly understood that in every department of the game the Clive representatives were outplayed—yes, even in the error column.

For the first two innings it looked as if the Lacombe "Colts" were going to win in a "canter" the score standing 5 to 0 in their favor. But not so. They secured another tally in the third, making it 6-0. Clive came to bat, and then THE BALLON WENT UP. When the Lacombe players at last came back to Mother Earth they were notified that their opponents had scored four runs, and that same was accomplished without the semblance of a hit. Oh, my! but how those Clive rooters did tear loose. Who could blame them? It is not every day they see balloon ascensions.

The "Colts" drew a blank in the fourth, but still Clive were not satisfied; they annexed another three scores, thereby taking the lead, the score now standing 7-6 in their favor.

Both teams drew a blank in the fifth. In the sixth, which was announced as the last inning of the game on account of oncoming darkness, the "Colts" tallied two more, making their score EIGHT. Clive annexed one in their half of the same inning, "ticing" up with the "Colts." EIGHT ALL.

Another inning was decided on by both teams to break the tie. It was a good thing that it was so decided, for the spectators were treated to an exhibition of REAL BASE BALL.

Five men only faced Zeglum in the seventh, and two of these were left on bases. But three faced him in the eighth and last inning. And then take Miller's record in these same two innings. Out three players faced him in the seventh, and ditto the third. Once again he proved that he gets better the farther he goes.

The score by innings follows:
Lacombe ..... 2-3-1-0-0-2-0-8
Clive ..... 0-0-4-3-0-1-0-8
The batting order of the teams was as follows:
Lacombe—D. Garland 3b.; G. Danner, s.s.; R. Bullis, 1.f.; H. Trayne, c.; Flemming, 1b.; Max Frizzell, r.f.; J. Hill, c.f.; R. Metzgar, 2b.; L. Miller, p.
Clive—R. Zeglum, 3b.; L. Ditzler, 1.f.; W. Zeglum, s.s.; Bud Willour, 2b.; W. Allison, 1b.; M. Northcott, r.f.; Oscar Ramsey, c.; V. Duffy, c.f.; E. Zeglum, p.

SUMMARY

Base Hits—Lacombe 15—Metzgar and Train, 3 singles each; Garland, Bullis, and Frizzell two singles each, and Flemming, Hill, and Miller one single each; sacrifice hit, Danner. Clive 9—W. Zeglum, a three-bagger; R. Zeglum, three singles; Bud Willour, and W. Allison, 2 singles each, and Duffy and E. Zeglum one single each; sacrifice hit, Allison.

Left on bases—Lacombe 9; Clive 8.

Stolen bases—Lacombe 5 (Metzgar getting 3 of them); Clive 2. Struck out—By Miller 3; Ditzler 3; Ramsey 2; Northcott, E. Zeglum, and W. Zeglum. By Zeglum 5; Frizzell 2; Metzgar, Bullis, and Flemming.

Hit by pitcher—R. Zeglum. Not one man on either side was given a walk to first by balls. Errors—It was impossible to keep track of these, especially those made by the "Colts" while Clive was at bat in the 3rd.

Two exceptionally fine catches were made during the game, one by Ditzler for Clive, and one for Lacombe by Metzgar, the latter being of a running backward nature.

Umpire—Harry Williams.

SOME POP-FLIES

Metzgar and Trayne used their "safety-reisers" to advantage, and looked all the better for that.

"Hit it, Wallace," he's got nothing on the ball but the cover," said a fan, referring to Miller. Well, if that's a fact Zeglum had nothing but a prayer, and he didn't use that.

Look at the strike-out record. The writer cannot remember of having seen any member of that Clive team in a Chicago uniform, either at the south side grounds on Wentworth Ave., or over on the west side, Fernist Taylor Street.

"He's from Chicago," remarked a fan, referring to a Clive player. Possibly so, but I'm from Missouri.

The only player on the Lacombe team that failed to make a hit scored the most runs (3). Puzzle—Who was it?

Don't forget this fact. You can only be on one street at a time, whether it be in Clive, Lacombe, or old Chi. Do you get me?

Manager, Garland is arranging a few good games for the future. Then our townspeople will be able to see their Champs in action.

Possibly Red Deer on Friday evening. Watch for notice in the Post Office.

Rimbey News

Rimbey's celebration day was ideal, almost the only day for the past month that it has not rained. A good crowd was in attendance, but owing to the bad condition of the roads the attendance was quite local. A few ventured from Whittenburg and a few from Spring Dale. The Rimbey band made its first public appearance that day and acquitted itself splendidly. Dr. Byers is bandmaster, and certainly has done wonders, as many of the boys were raw material less than a year ago. Every selection was fine and held the audience spell-bound. The sports were very good, but some of them needed more competitors. The mile race was won by a man from Weiserville. The young girls' race by Miss Yaylor, of Whittenburg. All other prizes were captured by Rimbey sports. The ball game was between the Homesteaders and the Rimbey team. For a time it seemed that it would be an easy walk-away for Rimbey, but finally the Homesteaders began to play and even things up so that at the finish the game stood 7 to 9 in favor of Rimbey. A dance in the hall completed the day's enjoyment, and Rimbey has celebrated.

Miss Rentzman and Miss Manderson, of Chicago, are here visiting Mr. Ed. Surrill. Miss Rentzman is Mr. Surrill's niece, and will remain here for some time. Miss Manderson will return this week. Mr. Surrill had not seen either of the ladies since they were all children together, and is enjoying their visit very much.

A severe hail storm visited this neighborhood last Thursday afternoon doing considerable damage, but fortunately did not cover a very large district.

Mr. Joseph Marshall was a business caller at Lacombe last Monday.

Leroy Rimbey and Delbert Cox marketed hogs at Lacombe during the past week.

Miss Pearl Everhart is spending a few weeks in Lacombe with her sister, Mrs. J. Hall.

Our

Diamonds

Take one of our Diamonds to the best critics anywhere.

They will say it is a pretty good stone. We often see Diamonds which are not good Diamonds. A stone should have perfect color and perfect shape; also there should be no marks or spots called flaws on the inside, and the brilliancy should be good.

Stones like this cost more, but we believe Lacombe people want the best.

All our regular stock has all these qualities, but we can procure cheaper stones if wanted.

Miss Mary Craig and Miss Marie Coverdale were Whittenburg visitors last Sunday.

The majority of the Rimbey population are rejoicing over the result at the ballot box last Wednesday. Only a two-thirds vote was polled at Rimbey, which resulted in 75 for the dyes and 25 for the wets, with four spoiled ballots, which, needless to say, were all intended for the wets. Other polling places in this district gave a majority for the dyes as follows: Monta Vista, 20-12; Lavesta, 22-12; Iola, 2-1; Nugent, 17-13. Spring Dale resulted in a tie—0-0. Whittenburg gave the wets the majority, the vote being 17 to 13.

Mrs. Craig and family are spending a couple of weeks with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Laura Claus died at her home at Rimbey on Friday, July 23, at the age of 66 years. She came here with her husband from Nebraska about a year ago, and has since lived with her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) Byers. She had been ailing for some time, but her death was quite unexpected to friends and neighbors. Being elderly and not very well she had made but few acquaintances here, but those who were fortunate enough to know her respected her highly. She was a member of the Lutheran Church, but there being no Lutheran denomination here the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Hathaway from the residence on Sunday at 2 p.m. She leaves a husband and a daughter, Mrs. Byers, at Rimbey, and a son residing in Nebraska, to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. Friends in the community extend their sympathy to Mr. Claus and Mrs. Byers in this their hour of bereavement.

Gull Lake News

The Helping Hand Society met at the home of Mrs. Reister last Wednesday with a good turn of it. It being the 21st of July, 100 roll-call each lady read a quotation on temperance. It was decided at the meeting to hold a joint picnic with the Sunday School at the Meridian beach on Wednesday, July 28th.

Wilma Harrison spent last Wednesday visiting Francis and Florence Court.

J. R. Cox won first in the mile race at Rimbey on the 20th.

THE CONDITIONS WHICH CONFRONT ALBERTA.

(Calgary News-Telegram)

It is safe to say that but few people in the province had any expectation that the vote on the Liquor Act on Wednesday would have shown such an overwhelming majority in favor of prohibition. There is no denying that the magnitude of the "dry" majority surprised even the most ardent temperance workers. The result is clear and decisive; and the sentiment so strongly in favor of the Act, that its enforcement should be comparatively easy. Beyond that, however, there is another aspect of the question.

That is, that the people have said emphatically and plainly that they want to get rid of the Bar and the Whiskey. Today is the day they want to get rid of it; but the understanding is that they must wait another twelve months before the new Act comes into effect. Yet, if a majority of 25,000 of the heads of families in this province want the Bar and its Whiskey to go today, why should we have to wait a year before the final obstacles are performed? The Bar is just as much of a menace today as it will be in a year from now. The overwhelming nature of the vote must convince the men in the Bar and Whiskey business that their traffic is one which is a lot desired in the province. And, at the same time, it is such that the temperance people can reasonably be expected to show a magnanimity befitting the occasion.

The question of compensation or no compensation will now become a live question, and it is well that it should be discussed. After its campaign of the past few weeks there are not many people, and especially those in the liquor business, who will accuse this paper of being unduly friendly to the Bar and the Whiskey interests. Nevertheless, this paper proposes to be fair with the liquor people, despite the fact that Whiskey and the Bar were never fair to anybody, and in spite of the fact that, in some places, we have been boycotted, while from others misrepresentations have been systematically peddled all through the city with the possible intention of injuring the paper. As we regard it, too, the temperance people should be fair, and desire to be fair.

The News-Telegram admits of no legal, legitimate claim for compensation on the part of the Bar or the Whiskey Dealer except insofar as the stock of the Bar and the Seller is concerned. We will not admit that the franchise (license or privilege) given in any one year to any one man or company, which permits the selling of liquor, either wholesale or retail, is anything but a franchise or privilege vested with the state and the people, and subject to regulation or cancellation by the state in accordance with the one-year contract, entered into between the state and the holder, as the people see fit. In addition to that, the fact cannot be lost sight of that thousands of men, women, and children, have been starved, ruined, and left penniless without house or home, and that many have gone down to the grave as a result of the liquor traffic, uncompensated by the Bar and the Whiskey responsible for their destruction.

Yet, because a franchise (license or privilege) given by the state and the people has permitted the holder of such a franchise to ruin men through a traffic upon which the state and the people placed the stamp of "legality," that does not say that the people and the state should also seek to ruin individuals within that state. Two wrongs never make a right; no more, than one injustice will counter-balance another.

Without admitting any legal claim for compensation on the part of the hotel men and liquor dealers, however, let us suggest that the temperance leaders from all over the province come together without any undue delay; that they carefully consider the compensation aspect of the question, and that they work out a scheme for reasonable compensation—PROVIDED THAT THE LIQUOR MEN ON THEIR PART CONSIDER THE PROPOSITION OF GETTING OUT OF BUSINESS WITHIN THREE MONTHS FOLLOWING THE PASSAGE OF A COMPENSATION ACT BY THE PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE; this legislation to be passed, if possible, at a date which will enable the new Liquor Act to go into force on the first day of December.

The News-Telegram has not made an estimate of what it would cost the province to reasonably compensate the liquor people who will go out of business. BUT, IN VIEW OF THE OVERWHELMING MAJORITY IN FAVOR OF PROHIBITION, WE BELIEVE THAT THE PEOPLE WOULD WILLINGLY PAY IT IN ORDER TO SAVE AN ADDITIONAL NINE MONTHS OF THE WHISKEY TRAFFIC, AND THAT THE WIPING OUT OF THE BARS BEFORE ANOTHER WINTER IS UPON US WOULD BE CHEAP AT ALMOST A NY PRICE.

If the present growing crop is safely taken from the fertile fields of Alberta, and present prices are maintained, we are firmly convinced that nine months without the Bars during which it will undoubtedly be prosperous times would result in sufficient additional trade and money to our other business interests and people generally to enable them to pay reasonable compensation without feeling the effects.

Let it be remembered that the News-Telegram favors no fancy prices for hotel properties. There must be none, and the present is a time when little inflation may be expected. In the cities, indeed, it is questionable if the liquor men who own their properties would ask for or consider compensation, for the reason that most of them under normal conditions, can make money without the Bar. To meet the situation in the smaller towns and villages in the rural districts, we would suggest, on the assumption that compensation will be considered, that each town and village be empowered to issue municipal debentures for an amount sufficient to take over one good hotel property in each place, where, in conjunction with a public library, and municipal clubhouse, good meals and clean beds will be supplied to the travelling public. When a municipality votes out of business a hotel which supplies public accommodation, that municipality must assume the obligation to supply that accommodation if private capital will not do so; otherwise its own interests are not being properly looked after. And, by stepping in to fill up the breach, the people of that municipality will not only be fulfilling a reasonable obligation, but they will be forever killing the possibility of a renewal, within that municipality, of the request for a license and the sale of whiskey on the plea that the public accommodation is being neglected, and that that accommodation cannot be supplied unless the Bar is an adjunct of the hotel. Where there are more than one hotel in a town, we do not think that the people will object to paying reasonable compensation, in view of the fact that legitimate business should increase and the evil effect of whiskey will be eliminated from the province.

The matter of compensation to the breweries is not such an easy matter. Personally, we do not think that any brewing company in Alberta is going broke because of the passage of the Prohibition Act. It may be necessary to transform such an institution into some other kind of an industry; but we have enough confidence in the business capacity of the big men at the head of the brewing industry in this province to believe that they can weather the storm and that they have sufficient business foresight and ingenuity to successfully launch into other channels, with but little loss either in finances or employees on the payroll. Indeed, unless we are greatly mistaken, the changed conditions because of the Prohibition Act will result in an ever-increasing demand for light beverages, to the absolute exclusion of whiskey and the strong stuff, and it would not be surprising if the future should bring forth such a consumption of much lighter beverages as would result in increased manufacture within those institutions which are willing to meet the changed conditions. If that does not follow, then we have no hesitation in saying that the provincial government could make a cold storage warehouse out of every brewery in the province, and that, in doing so, would be filling a need that is much more urgent than that of the brewery. For the wholesale dealer, nothing but his stock is at stake, and compensation, so far as he is concerned, should be comparatively easy, it being possible for the government to take over most of the liquor on hand.

Should any substantial number of hotels, brewery or liquor institutions be put out of business through the advent of prohibition, the passing of the bar and the curtailment of whiskey selling, and should it be decided that compensation is just and advisable for the stockholders or owners of these institutions, then the men who are employed by these concerns should also be considered. A workman who may be thrown out of his job has just as much right to expect six or perhaps twelve months' salary as compensation for an Act of the state as has the hotel man, the dealer, or the brewer, whose profits during all these years have been out of all proportion to the earnings of the working men. If there is to be compensation for the boss from the state, there should be some compensation from the boss to the employees.

The News-Telegram would commend these suggestions to both temperance people and liquor men, believing that they are fair and equitable in their tenor to both sides. One consideration which must not be lost sight of is that the people of this province should endeavor to protect the interests of the British investors. It would be unfortunate if any company in Alberta were compelled to default on its bonds.

entering shallow lake basins, and investigators are working on a theory that the ballast tanks were not filled and that the sinking of the ship was caused by the lack of ballast.

WHAT WE ARE FIGHTING FOR.

When interrogated the other day in the British House of Commons as to "the essential objects for which the nation was fighting," Mr. Asquith declared there was nothing he could add to the definiteness of his speech at the beginning of the war and at the Guildhall. It may now be well to recall the declarations then made, as at the last Lord Mayor's banquet momentous utterances were made by Mr. Asquith, Mr. Carson, Lord Kitchener, and Mr. Churchill. It was one of the most historic gatherings the old hall had ever held, and pre-destined to shape the course of future history, inasmuch as only eighty miles away the greatest battle the world had ever seen was going on—the battle of Ypres. In his clear and incisive language the prime minister then declared, "We would do well not to be moved to exultation or to despondency by the fluctuating fortunes of the campaign. It is going to be a long drawn-out struggle, and we cannot do better than to cultivate and to practice, after the fashion of our forefathers, a temper of equanimity. We shall not sheath the sword which we have not lightly drawn until Belgium recovers in full measure all, and more than all, she has sacrificed—until France is adjacently secured against the menace of aggression—until the rights of the smaller nationalities of Europe are placed upon an unassailable foundation—until the military domination of Prussia is fully and finally destroyed. It is a great task, worthy of a great nation. It needs for its accomplishment that every man amongst us, old or young, rich or poor, busy or leisured, learned or simple, should give what he has and do what he can."

Lord Kitchener, in special emphasis, wanted "every citizen to understand the cardinal fact that the British Empire is now fighting for its existence. Only from a clear conception of the vast importance of the issue at stake can the great national moral impulse without which military armaments and even armies and navies, can do but little. We have splendid resources in men and material; but in that wonderful spirit which has never understood the meaning of defeat lies our greatest asset."

M. Cambon declared the French nation was "not seeking to appease an appetite for conquest or domination, but wished simply to preserve European civilization. We remain faithful to our ideal of humanity and liberty, and in that ideal we find the moral force to enable us to overcome the material forces accumulated against us. We believe firmly in eternal justice, and await its decrees with unshakable confidence."

These utterances of fine moral and political proof that our leaders have never minimized the gravity of the struggle, nor have they had any misconception as to the end in view. Remembering all the events that have taken place since, it must appear with a doubled force to every man and woman in this Dominion of ours. The problems ahead are great, much sacrifice will have to be made, and even though conditions may not be propitious, yet the future is full of inspiration. Let everyone be determined to meet their difficulties with courage and bend our backs to the task ahead with a grim conviction that from its outcome we shall yet see the dawn of that age when "Peace will rest in the midst of the nations of the earth, and war and rumors of war shall never more be known."

SIR ROBERT BORDEN RETURNS TO LONDON FROM TRENCHES

London, July 26.—Sir Robert Borden has returned safely to London after spending seven strenuous days behind and on the battle front in France. He reached the capital late this evening. During his tour he was with the Canadian division in the trenches inspected the Quebec province hospital at Paris, visited wounded members of the division in many hospitals, and was a guest of the President of France and Sir John French.

Sir Robert left Paris early this morning. He spent the day in visiting hospitals or convalescent homes where Canadian wounded are located. The premier's great effort has been to get in personal touch with all sections of the Canadian forces. The late hour of his arrival tonight made it impossible for him to make a statement concerning his tour, but he said it had been intensely interesting.

WAR MUST TERMINATE BEFORE CHRISTMAS SAYS THE KAISER

Copenhagen, July 26.—Before going to Posen to confer with his generals, the Kaiser, it is reported here, held a crown council in Berlin. The Emperor declared Germany could not undertake to negotiate with her enemies until Warsaw and Calais had been captured. With Gen. von Hindenburg and Gen. von Falkenhayn, the Kaiser drew up final plans to end the war, which, the Emperor said must terminate before Christmas.

The office of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. will be closed at noon on Thursday, July 29; Saturday, August 7, and Saturday, August 14.

BIBLE LECTURE

(Synopsis of Lecture given by Prof. P. P. Adams)

If the seventh day is the Sabbath why has it not been found out before? Synopsis of lecture by Prof. P. P. Adams.

"And the times of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent."—Acts 17:30. At this time the Lord overlooked the condition of the people on account of their ignorance. But what were they ignorant of? We answer, the gospel. But why were all men commanded everywhere to repent? Colossians 1:5, 6 shows that the gospel had been preached to all the then known world. In Romans 1:8 we read that the faith of the Roman believers was a matter of mention throughout the whole world. Then is the time for all men to repent. This has been a true principle throughout the ages—when the message has been proclaimed throughout the world, showing men their condition, then is the time for them to repent. Many who were ignorant of the seventh day Sabbath have kept the first day Sabbath and lived consistent Christian lives, dying a Christian death, will be saved in the resurrection morning. But the time is coming when the Sabbath truth will be proclaimed; then if men do not accept and repeat God cannot overlook their ignorance.

We have answered the question how the seventh day Sabbath came in; we have shown that nowhere is the first day Sabbath taught; that its observance came about through the apostasy of the church which developed into the little horn of Daniel 7:25, and that in this way Sunday was brought in. Then, at this time, the Sabbath truth will be brought out, and a reformation will be in order, so that when the Lord comes he will find a people who are keeping all his commandments. While the Sabbath truth has been overlooked before, yet now God will hold the world responsible. Many will repent of their ignorance, and do what God commands them to do.

A great change has been made in the law of God. Daniel 7:25 means something. Daniel saw a great power arise which would rule the world 1260 years and think to change times and laws. No power on earth will answer the description of this power, but the Roman Church. They have thought to change the law of God, for the law they teach in their catechisms is not the law found in Exodus XX, penned by God's own finger. If we compare the two laws we find that in the Roman version only part of the first commandment is given, and the second is entirely dropped out, while the third is instituted in its place. In the fourth the injunction is given "Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath day," but the Sabbath day is not defined. And so with more or less variations we trace through the ten commandments until we come to the last, where, because they have dropped out the second entirely, they have to divide the tenth to make up the requisite number. This is the law as taught in Butler's Catechism of the Roman Church.

We have found from previous studies that the little horn is the Papacy. If the Papacy began in 538 A.D., according to the prophecy, and was to rule 1260 years, that brings us to 1798 A.D., in which year the Pope was taken prisoner by Berthier, the French general. The early Reformers—Luther, Melancthon, Zwingli, Knox, etc.—brought out many new truths, but the Sabbath truth was left for later generations to discover. A serious breach has been made in God's law. It is bad enough to break it, but for a power to say that they have the power and the right to change it and to teach the people that they have, that is an awful thing. The Catholics realize the enormity of the situation. But now, when they find out that the law is not changed, and never has been, they are taking hold of the Sabbath truth by hundreds and thousands. The Saviour himself said, in Matt. 5:17, 18, that the law is unchangeable. They have only thought to change the law.

En-12-4-5, shows us the breach made in the law. All events point to the final settlement and the great battle of Armageddon, when men must be prepared to stand, and back of them must be more than government and monitions. The text refers to the battle of the great day of the Lord. There are many who are not making up the gaps in God's law, and it is time somebody is saying something to prepare to make up the breach.

Do you think any man is fitted to stand in the judgment, to be brought before the great tribunal, and be measured by the standard of his law, who has not kept the commandments? I fear not. Men must be in harmony with God's law no matter what the cost may be. What difference does it make if we do have to sacrifice a few things here in this world, if we are prepared to stand in the great day of the Lord Almighty?

So it is time for a message to go forth to make up the breach in God's law. The Sabbath has been taken out and in the place "a slight wall has been built up"—the Sunday institution; and "others dabbed it with untempered mortar." This they have done in trying to uphold the Sunday institution. But what is this untempered mortar? Eze. 22:28 answers the question. This is literally true concerning the Sunday institution. The Pope has built it up, and Protestants come along and say it is God's institution, saying, "Thus saith the Lord God, when the Lord hath not spoken."

But untempered mortar cannot stand, and when the seven last plagues are poured out, the "slight wall" cannot stand, nor its makers. It does not appear now that God is angry, but when the day of God comes and Jesus Christ no longer intercedes, then God will deal with individuals. I speak plainly, but this is necessary, for we shall all have to face God in the judgment day.

There will be a Reformation, Isa. 28:1, 2. In Rev. 12:17, the true seed of the woman is seen keeping the commandments of God. Why? Because there has been a reformation and the breach has been repaired.

In Rev. 7 God brings to view a work called the sealing work. An angel is seen with the seal of the living God. But the four angels are bidden to hold the four winds until the servants of God are sealed in their foreheads.

Rev. 15:1, and Rev. 14:1-5, shows the same number who are to be sealed. This is a work which takes place during the last generation of men. What is a seal? We shall see if the Sabbath corresponds with a seal. The word comes from the Latin sigillum, meaning a mark, a sign, a figure, or an image. It is used interchangeably with sign. A seal is used to confirm, to ratify, or to authenticate a document. It must contain (1) the name of the authority, (2) his title, and (3) the territory over which he rules. In the Sabbath command we find all these three points—the name, "the Lord thy God"; the title, the Creator; and the territory, the heavens and earth, the work of his creation. If a seal is used on documents to authenticate them, then the Sabbath is used to authenticate the greatest document of all. If you recognize that God created you, then you must obey Him.

The angels hold the winds of strife, and for this reason the whole world is not now involved in the death struggle. The sealing work is not finished, but it will be as soon as the Sabbath goes to the world. Then God's people will be held responsible and the four winds of strife will blow. It is the duty of every man to keep the commandments, because he tells us to.

If you can say in answer to man's question concerning your faith, "It is written," as the Saviour answered the tempter in the wilderness, then it is all right.

Obedy God at any cost. Will it cost too much? No, but it will not to obey Him. The few little things that we sacrifice on this earth are only by way of making a covenant with Him. What a glorious thing it will be to see the Saviour coming and hear the words, "Faithful servant, well done," and feel and know the companionship of angels! How much will money, fame, and worldly pleasure compare to meeting the Lord in the air?

May God help us to have the seal placed on our foreheads that we may be counted as subjects of His kingdom!

SAD DROWNING FATALITY TOOK PLACE AT CLIVE

Very distressing are the circumstances surrounding the death, by drowning, of the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ash, on Tuesday evening, July 20th.

Mrs. Ash and her son, Howard, two years and three months old, were out together feeding the chickens their evening meal. Mrs. Ash was busily engaged collecting the eggs, when Howard slipped away unnoticed and apparently wandered off, to the little creek just a short distance from the house, and it is presumed that he fell into it and was drowned. Mrs. Ash quickly noticed that her boy had wandered away, and the hedges to search for him, but in vain. Then the dread idea took hold of her that he had slipped into the creek, and immediately the process of dragging the creek was instituted, and it was some time before the body was discovered, the little life being extinct.

The funeral took place from the Methodist Church, Clive, on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. W. L. Bradley officiated. The sorrowing parents have the sympathy of the whole community in this being so suddenly bereft of their only child.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY OF THE PROHIBITION VOTE

(Calgary Daily Herald)
The vote in favor of the liquor act was decisive, more so than was hoped even by its most sanguine supporters. Thus one potential danger of the vote has been removed. It has been held, and properly, that a prohibition law should have the approval of more than a bare majority of the people. Yesterday's result indicates that prohibition in Alberta should have a reasonable chance of success, for the public is certainly behind it.

Late returns indicate that out of fifty-six constituencies only seven voted wet, and that out of 74,000 votes, there were 48,000 "drys" against 26,000 "wets." This is slightly over the 60 per cent, which is recognized in older communities as a safe proportion of support. Alberta is thus fortunate in the assurance of a substantial support to the new departure.

The vote represents a sincere and deep-seated desire among the people for release from the evils of the liquor traffic. The faults of the act did not deter them from endorsing the general principle for which it stood. Furthermore, the conditions of today were particularly favorable to the passing of any legislation that would curb extravagance and waste. It is also true that the way in which the liquor business has been conducted in Alberta did it much harm when it was placed on trial. The bar had no friends and the hotel interests few. The result was decided by a vast and silent body of voters, not connected with extremists on either side, who, weighing the act and its imperfections against the experiences of their own lives, concluded that prohibition with all its uncertainties was better than a continuance of the evils they knew.

It will be the duty of the government to carry out the will of the electors thoroughly. The ultimate verdict for or against prohibition in Western Canada will depend on its administration by the authorities. Those who, like The Herald, have criticized the liquor act, while seeking a solution of the liquor evil, will support the government to the utmost in a stringent enforcement of the law as endorsed by yesterday's vote.

CALGARY ALBERTAN
Calgary, July 22.—The Morning Albertan says editorially:

"It was the first test of direct legislation in Canada, and a very successful test. One of the most important lessons of the vote was the indication of the breaking down of the party system. In Ontario and in other older provinces the sentiment in favor of prohibition is quite as strong, perhaps stronger, than in Alberta, but because of the party tyranny the people have been unable to crystallize their sovereign will in legislation. It remained for the people of Alberta, the youngest of the provinces, by direct methods, to eliminate partyism entirely from the greatest political struggle of history of western Canada, and to enforce their will. The entire contest is illuminating. It was the first nail in the coffin of partyism. The result was an epoch-making incident in the history of the province and a moral stimulant to the entire Dominion."

MOOSE JAW NEWS
Moose Jaw, July 22.—The Morning News says editorially: "The result in Alberta should occasion no surprise. Those who have failed to discern that the western public favors the elimination of the liquor traffic root and branch have failed to read the signs of the times. In the prairie provinces the banishment of the bar policy was popular before the outbreak of war; but during the last twelve months temperance sentiment has gone far beyond such a policy. Alberta, having declared for total prohibition, Manitoba is certain to follow, which will almost assuredly mean that Saskatchewan will be some distance behind her neighbors."

MOOSE JAW TIMES
Moose Jaw, July 22.—The Evening Times in an editorial this afternoon says as follows: "The Evening Times hopes for the day of total prohibition in Canada by Federal enactment. To prohibit the importation and manufacture of liquor by Dominion law, except for scientific or medicinal purposes is the only effective way to adequately deal with evils of the organized traffic. This is the ultimate solution. Saskatchewan and Alberta have done their bit, so has Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia."

SASKATOON PHOENIX
Saskatoon, July 22.—The Saskatoon Phoenix says: "The vote is a striking reminder of the trend of public opinion in the matter of the liquor traffic, and perhaps an indication of what will happen when Saskatchewan and Manitoba come to vote on the same question. There is much to justify the prediction, in the prevailing state of opinion, that in five years Canada will be under total prohibition."

WINNIPEG FREE PRESS
Winnipeg, July 23.—The Free Press this morning: "Alberta has settled permanently the temperance question—quietly, swiftly, efficiently, and with a minimum of controversy and disturbance. The issue was submitted to the people free from all other distracting questions and separated from all political influence, and they were asked to say whether or not they wanted the law to become effective. They have declared in favor of it by a vote of at least two to one, and, as a consequence, Alberta will go dry July 1, 1916, and will remain dry forever, unless the people, by popular vote, reverse the decision given on Wednesday."

REGINA LEADER
Regina, July 22.—The Leader (Liberal) says: "The verdict rendered in Alberta yesterday demonstrates beyond all shadow of doubt that the traffic in intoxicating liquor in Canada is doomed. In fact it is open to question whether the men engaged in the traffic will now bow to the inevitable and quit spending money like water in the effort to check the onward sweep of the temperance reform movement. Defeat if they cannot. The organized liquor forces of Canada spent an enormous sum of money in Alberta, yet the result is their overwhelming defeat by a vote of nearly, if not quite, two to one. After referring to the fact that it will only be a short time before Manitoba falls into line, the Leader points out that a demand will be made on Ottawa that the wishes of the people be respected to the extent of prohibiting the manufacture in and the importation into the prairie provinces of all intoxicating liquor."

THE RESULT

The province has gone dry by an overwhelming majority. The English-speaking vote, whether British, Canadian, or American, and whether in town or country, has gone dry by large majorities. The Scandinavian vote has also gone dry. The coal mine vote has, generally speaking, gone wet and the same is true in large measure of the French, German, and Ruthenian settlements. Lethbridge is the only city that has gone wet, and that is accounted for by the coal mines vote. The fact that both Edmonton and Calgary have gone dry proves that the sentiment against the bar was strongest where it was best known. It might have been expected that business rivalry and the argument that the open bar would attract business would have influenced one or both of these cities. No doubt the argument was worked to a finish by the advocates of the bar. The fact appeared to be that the people of both cities had become fed up on the bar, its exactions, its dictation, and the leverage which it exercised, and while not saying much, had decided to end rather than try to meet an ever-increasing undesirable condition. The broad fact is that in Calgary and Edmonton the bar was chiefly defeated by itself and its friends, not during the campaign, but during a term of years preceding the campaign.

Cardston, which had been under local option for years, voted strongly dry. Kitchissippi, practically under local option, also went dry, but by a small majority. The north country, which had nominally been under prohibition, voted wet, partly no doubt because of special efforts put forth by the wet campaign, but more because of the abuse of the permit system and the inefficient administration of the law, which gave ground for argument against the probability of the enforcement of the Liquor Act.

That the chief organizer for the bar was located at Edmonton indicated that it was in the northern portion of the province—where there is a larger proportion of non-English speaking residents than in the south—that the greater exertions were to be made. That they were made is beyond question. Their nature can only be conjectured. But the vote shows that while a measure of success was achieved, the bar never had a chance to win in the province as a whole. At the same time all will admit whether the bar is open or closed, it is better and fairer for all interests that the law shall be the same throughout the province, instead of there being one law in one part and another in another, as at present.

THE EXCURSION TO THE EXPERIMENTAL FARM

The excursion to the Experimental Station on Friday, July 23rd, was fairly successful, as to the crowds coming in on the trains, and quite successful with respect to the local crowd attending and the interest shown by all those present in the work of the farm.

During the previous night serious hail storms, visited different parts of the Province, and no doubt materially interfered with the crowd on the various trains. However, the largest crowd ever attending such an excursion to the farm from a distance was in attendance, there being almost seven hundred on the three specials. The day was not particularly favorable, for rain was falling in different parts of the Province and a particularly heavy storm in Calgary at the time the excursion train left prevented a number which had intended coming from carrying out their plans. After the arrival of the trains the day was fairly bright until the conclusion of the addresses, when a brisk shower interfered to some extent with the inspection of the varieties and experimental work in horticulture.

Shortly after one o'clock Mayor Macleod welcomed the visitors and introduced the Superintendent, Mr. G. H. Hutton, who outlined the work under way in the various departments of the farm. Mr. H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, followed, complimenting the Superintendent and staff on the great improvement shown during the last three years, and since the previous excursion was held.

One of the most prominent agriculturists of the West, in the person of Dr. J. G. Rutherford, was present, and gave a very interesting and thoughtful address bearing upon farmers problems, and outlining plans by which improved market facilities might be secured.

The programme concluded, the visitors were shown, by the various members of the staff in charge of different departments, over the Farm. The splendid yield of fruit, both raspberries, strawberries, currants, and crab apples, provoked a great deal of favorable comment. Stockmen admired the large herd of Angus and Holstein cattle, and much satisfaction was expressed that the goat herd bull, "Elmpark Wizard," has been brought to Alberta by the Experimental Farm. The experiment under way in the grading up of a dairy herd is likely to prove of great value. The production figures for the last lactation period show that the common grade herd made an average of about 5100 pounds; the high grade 8600 pounds, and the pure-bred herd, about 10,000 pounds. The feeding trials, with various rough fodders, for dairy cattle, proved of great interest when it was pointed out that a saving of from 20 to 25 per cent. in the cost of a pound of butter was effected by feeding peas and oats silage as compared with the same fodder cured in the field and fed dry.

Among the variety plots great differences were shown, and it was urged that all farmers pay particular attention to the varieties of cereals grown, as the yield per acre may be increased without expense after the first season simply by selecting an improved variety. With respect to oats and barley it is safe to say that 40 per cent. of the growers are not familiar with the variety they are handling.

The trees, shrubs, and flowers, being grown on the farm indicate that a wide range of varieties are suitable for this climate, and many farmers went away determined to plant more trees and shrubs, and thus add to the beauty, material value, and permanency of their farm home.

The ladies of the Lacombe Branch of the Red Cross Society did their part well in providing refreshments for the visitors and everyone appeared fully satisfied with this part of the programme.

RED CROSS NOTES

The ladies of the Red Cross Society, who served refreshments at the Experimental Farm last Friday, wish to thank the officials of the Farm for the great courtesy they showed. Everything possible was done to make things convenient. They also thank all those who responded to their appeal for help by their very liberal donations of money, baking, cream, and butter, and by their assistance that day. The sum of $142 was made clear of expense.

The Society also wish to thank the merchants who helped in any way; Mr. Sage, who did the drying free of charge; Mr. Cook, who made the signs; the gentlemen who used their cars for the benefit of the Society, and the Experimental and Nursery Farms for their flowers, which were much appreciated.

There were some plates and dishes which were sent with the baking. They will be at Mrs. Day's if the donors will send for them.

The Red Cross Society acknowledges with the splendid donation of wool given by Mr. McBride.

Bentley News

The weather seems to be settled; roads are again dry, and everyone smiling.

The Bentley Council have had some street and sidewalk work done, which improves the looks and convenience of the place.

The Calgary Regulars, in camp at the Gull Lake summer resort, came over on Monday to play the Bentley professionals a game of ball, but lost the game by one score according to the records. Mr. Colley, Prof. of Drugs, pitched for the home team, with J. G. Blish catching. The visitors were supported by Mr. Forbes, who is a regular twirler, Smith catching. For the regulars McGillivray proved to be a base-runner of some class, making home on a single by Smith from second. Two of the visitors were injured during the exciting contest, but the only fatality was When Judge Stuart died on second base.

There will be a dance in the Briggs Hall on Friday night, the 31st. All are invited. The Imperial Orchestra will furnish the music.

The condition of the roads to Rimbey prevented the Bentley ball team from participating in the sports at that place on the 20th.

With the weather improved the Gull Lake summer resort seems to have taken on a livelier appearance. Many people from the cities have been waiting for the weather to settle, and are now coming out for their holidays. On Saturday night last the hotels were filled to their capacity, and from now on anyone wanting rooms for the week-end had better secure them in advance.

Among recent arrivals at the are Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Moffatt, of Calgary, and family.

One heat of the sailboat race was run off on Monday evening, with seven starters, in a light wind. May won first, Emery second, and McKenty third.

Let us have a regatta this year; it only needs a few boats to pull it off, and many are looking ahead to it in anticipation.

While mentioning the death, at Bentley, of Mr. Alfred Bullock, a few weeks ago, we did not have data to write it up from. We have since received it. Alfred Bullock was born in Chemung Co., New York State, in the year 1845, removing to Wisconsin, when a boy, with his parents, where he was occupied in a grocery and on a farm. He married Miss Lucy Helen Martin on Nov. 30th, 1871. Four children were born to them, only one, Mabel (now Mrs. George Gerdes), now being alive. Mr. and Mrs. Bullock moved to Bentley, Alta., some eight years ago to care for their son, Ira, in his last illness, and remained here, Mr. Bullock being employed in the Jas. McPherson grocery here, where he worked up to a few weeks before his death. Mr. Bullock was a member of the Woodmen of the World and the G.A.R. Mrs. Bullock has the sympathy of a host of friends.

Mrs. J. Bodicote, of Wittenberg, wishes to thank the people of Bentley for their kind assistance in subscribing for her comfort.

GERMAN NOTE UNSATISFACTORY: PRES. WILSON

Washington, July 23.—The text of the American note on submarine warfare, presented at Berlin today by Ambassador Gerard, was made public here tonight; it reveals that the imperial government has been informed it is the intention of the United States to regard as "deliberately unfriendly" any repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of American rights.

The United States announces that it will continue to contend for the freedom of the seas "from whatever quarter violated, without compromise and at any cost."

"Illegal and inhuman acts," says the note, "however justifiable they may be thought against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the rights to life itself."

The note says that the events of the past two months clearly indicate that it is "possible and practicable" to conduct submarine operations "in substantial accord with the accepted practices of regulated warfare."

The government of the United States is not unmindful of the extraordinary conditions created by this war, or of the radical alterations of circumstance and method of attack produced by the use of instrumentalities of naval warfare, which the nations of the world cannot have had in view when the existing rules of international law were formulated, and it is ready to make every reasonable allowance for these novel and unexpected cases of war at sea, but it cannot consent to abate any essential or fundamental right of its people because of a mere alteration of circumstances. The right of neutrals in time of war are based upon principle, not upon expediency, and the principles are immutable. It is the duty and obligation of belligerents to find a way to adapt the new circumstances to them.

"The events of the past two months have clearly indicated that it is possible and practicable to conduct submarine operations as have characterized the activity of the imperial German navy within the so-called war zone in substantial accord with the accepted practices of regulated warfare. The whole world has looked with interest and increasing satisfaction at the demonstration of that possibility by German naval commanders. It is manifestly possible, therefore, to lift the whole practice of submarine attack above the criticism which it has aroused and remove the chief causes of offense."

In official and diplomatic quarters the communication was received as the strongest and most emphatic pronouncement that has come from Washington government since the beginning of its correspondence with the belligerents of Europe.

Following is the official text of the latest American note to Germany regarding submarine warfare, which was delivered to the foreign office at Berlin today by Ambassador Gerard:

"The Secretary of State to Ambassador Gerard—Department of State, Washington, July 21, 1915.—You are instructed to deliver textually the following note to the minister of foreign affairs:

"The note of the imperial German government, dated the 8th of July, 1915, has received the careful consideration of the government of the United States, and it regrets to be obliged to say that it has found it very unsatisfactory, because it fails to meet the real differences between the two governments and indicates no way in which the accepted principles of law and humanity may be applied in the grave controversy, but proposes, on the contrary, arrangements for a partial suspension of those principles which virtually set them aside.

"The government of the United States notes with satisfaction that the imperial German government recognizes without reservation the validity of the principles insisted on in the several communications which this government has addressed to the imperial German government with regard to its announcement of a war zone and the use of submarines against merchantmen on the high seas—the principle that the character and cargo of a merchantman must first be ascertained before she can lawfully be seized or destroyed, and that the lives of non-combatants may in no case be put in jeopardy unless the vessel resists, or seeks to escape after being summoned to submit to examination; for a belligerent act of retaliation is per se an act beyond the law, and the defense of an act as retaliatory is an admission that it is illegal."

"The government of the United States is, however, greatly disappointed to find that the imperial German government regards itself as in large degree exempt from the obligation to observe these principles, even where neutral vessels are concerned, by what it believes the policy and practice of the government of Great Britain to be in the present war with regard to neutral commerce. The imperial German government will readily understand that the government of the United States cannot discuss the policy of the government of Great Britain with regard to neutral trade except with that government itself, and that it must regard the conduct of other belligerent governments as irrelevant to any discussion with the imperial German government on what this government regards as grave and unjustifiable violations of the rights of American citizens by German naval commanders. Illegal and inhuman acts, however justifiable they may be thought to be against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity, are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the rights of life itself."

CLOSER RELATIONS BETWEEN CANADA AND MOTHER COUNTRY.

London, July 22.—Speaking in the House of Commons last night T. P. O'Connor said that when in Canada he heard remarks which were new to him with regard to the feeling of Canadians towards the mother country. "The information on which Canada had to rely for knowledge of our domestic affairs," said Mr. O'Connor, "was nearly all supplied through United States agencies." He said he was recently speaking to one of the greatest men in Canada, who, after referring to the war, made this strange observation: "This is the last time Canada is going to do this."

Mr. O'Connor was surprised, and on asking for an explanation was told that "we cannot count in future on the splendid contribution of Canada to our armed forces if we did not take Canada more into our confidence."

Mr. O'Connor prefaced the foregoing saying that the presence of Sir Robert Borden at the cabinet meeting was an epoch-making event to be noted as a promise of the beginning of better and closer relations between the overseas dominions and the mother country.
